

HPRP APR Update

Alert:

The HPRP APR, made available to grantees in e-snaps in October, has temporarily been taken offline. HUD discovered technical issues with the form, which prevented some data from pre-populating the fields in the APR correctly. While we are working to fix this, we ask that grantees do not attempt to complete or submit the HPRP APR. HUD expects to release a corrected version of the APR within the next week and will send a listserv message alerting grantees when the APR is available again.

Reminders:

- The deadline to submit the HPRP APR has been extended until January 7, 2011.
- Grantees must be aware that there is no “preliminary” or “final” functionality with the APR. There is one version and once it is submitted, grantees cannot go in and edit or change data.
- HUD strongly encourages grantees to work with their HMIS lead to review data quality now. Grantees should not wait until the APR is available in e-snaps or until right before the APR is due; they should take time now to identify missing data or other data quality issues so they can be corrected in order to generate an APR for submission in January.
- Grantees may review the questions on the APR by going to the “APR Questions Template” at: http://www.hudhre.info/documents/HPRP-APR_Questions.pdf
- A recording of the HPRP APR Webinar is available online at: http://www.hudhre.info/HPRP/index.cfm?do=viewHPRP_APRWebinar
- Grantees needing technical assistance around their APR should put a request in through the Virtual Help Desk at www.hudhre.info.
